- Report available in hard copy, or online for immediate use
- State-of-the-art inspection tools for greater accuracy
- Personal service from a qualified, experienced engineer
- Inspector is fully licensed, insured and bonded

RESULTS

As a client of Integrity Engineering, LLC, you can expect high quality service from a licensed professional engineer and inspector who is bound by the standards of practice and ethical conduct required of his profession. Your reports will be comprehensive, organized and understandable. And, should you need to consult with us in the future on your inspection, we will be there to explain and inform.

A word from I. G. "Zack" Lilienfeld, PE:

Under the current state licensing law, by the end of 2005, any home inspector who is not licensed will no longer be able to legally perform inspections in New Jersey. Note that "certified" is not the same as state licensed. Be sure that whomever you select, confirm that they are licensed. It's an important distinction!
